Second Vande Bharat train chugs from Mysuru

Departure from Mysuru at 6 am; arrival at MGR Chennai at 12.20 pm daily, except Thursdays

Mysuru, Apr. 5 (RK&BCT)- The Second Vande Bharat Express commenced its journey from Mysuru City Railway Station to MGR Chennai Central Railway Station this morning. Prime Minister Narendra Modi had virtually inaugurated the train on Mar. 12.

From Mar. 14 to Apr. 4, the train operated between Sir Mokshagundam Visvesvaraya Terminal (SMVT) at Baiyappanahalli in Bengaluru and MGR Chennai Central due to the lack of maintenance facilities at Mysuru station for the Vande Bharat trains. However, with the completion of maintenance facility works at Mysuru yard, the train has now begun operations from Mysuru.

Railway officials stated that there was a demand for a second Vande Bharat Express with an early morning departure from Mysuru to facilitate commuters travelling to Bengaluru. Thus, the train has been introduced accordingly. However, there was no formal flagging off of the train this morning due to the Model Code of Conduct for the Lok Sabha elections being in force.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The State of the Global Climate report that was released recently is cause for concern. The report, by the World Meteorological Organisation (WMO) of the United Nations, states that 2023 was the hottest year in the recorded history of the planet. Moreover, the average temperature rise from pre-industrial levels has been 1.45 °C, with a margin of uncertainty of ±0.12 °C. The temperature rise is tantalisingly close to breaking the agreed limit of 1.5 °C by different nations. Such a rise in global temperatures, also popularly known as global warming, is definitely alarming.*

In this election season, the WMO report should result in an awakening not only for all of humanity, but also, specifically, for all political parties. The anxiety over climate change expressed by the WMO, the UN and scientific fraternity should motivate parties across the political spectrum to make their action plans clear. People will wholeheartedly welcome stands taken by political parties on such an important issue.

Political parties, for example, must commit themselves to enhancing public awareness on climate change and clearly defining steps to reduce global warming. Political differences in approaching both these questions may persist, but the larger public interest would be served by addressing these issues, thereby giving voters a chance to assess these views. Political parties may also wish to spell out the steps that they would undertake to reduce the impact of global warming on India. If India were looking to find its rightful place in the global order, and be counted as a true world power in the "Amrit Kaal," the demands on its leadership on climate change actions will be watched. All political parties are pitching the agenda of shaping India's economic prosperity and the well-being of its people. This is an agenda which would be incomplete without addressing the core issue of a climate change action plan. — Shekhar Mande, former Director General, CSIR and Secretary, Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, GoI, in The Hindu*

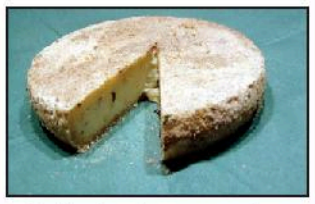
Rare German cheese infested with live mites



Berlin: A unique type of goat cheese named Milbenkäse, ripened in wooden boxes and infested with millions of tiny cheese mites is consumed with the tiny critters for added taste.

The history of Milbenkäse can be traced back to the Middle Ages when it was produced in Saxony-Anhalt and Thuringia regions of Germany, but the cheese-making tradition faded with time, and in 1970 the recipe for Milbenkäse was nearly lost forever. An elderly woman in the village of Würchwitz remained the only person in the world who knew how to make this special cheese, and she passed on her knowledge to local science teacher Helmut Pöschel. He in turn partnered with Christian Schmelzer and together they managed to revitalise the production of the so-called "spider cheese". Today, Würchwitz is the only place in the world where Milbenkäse is still produced.

A delicious treat created by mistake

Paris: Blonde chocolate is yet to reach the popularity of milk, dark and white chocolates, but it is already recognised as one of the most ingenious variations of white chocolate ever created.

Blonde chocolate can be traced back to the year 2004 when French pastry chef Frederic Bau was busy showing off his skills during an exhibition in Japan. He apparently got so carried away during the show that he left his white chocolate melting in a bain-marie for four days. When he finally got back to it, the chocolate had become a pale brown and had a very distinct smell and flavour. Apart from its caramel-like colour, this new confection had the milky smoothness of white chocolate, but also butterscotch, toffee, and shortbread-tasting notes, as well as a distinct after-taste of roasted coffee. Frederic Bau quickly recognized the potential of his discovery, and blonde chocolate was born.

Hassles of Property Tax online payment

Sir,

Today, I attempted to pay my Property Tax online through both the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) website and the KarnatakaOne platform, including their respective apps.

However, all my attempts were unsuccessful, as the MCC website displayed an empty form and the KarnatakaOne platforms showed no tax due.

It would be immensely beneficial if the concerned authorities at MCC could provide the public with information regarding the availability of online payment facilities for Property Tax. This transparency would greatly assist individuals who are eager to pay their property tax online.

I sincerely hope that the MCC Commissioner takes note of this issue and promptly addresses it, thereby providing much-needed assistance to the citizens.

Error in tax payment website of MCC

Sir,

Yesterday, our Property Tax on the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) website displayed as Rs. 4,793. However, today, it shows Rs. 8,465. Additionally, the MCC has blocked VISA card payments for tax, and even two debit cards that function smoothly for online shopping are encountering errors.

Tax-payers must remain vigilant regarding the charged amount. Despite informing MCC about the website issues, they have yet to address them, implying that they prefer payments at their office counter.

Peripheral Ring Road: MUDA shortlists three agencies for DPR task

Mysuru, Apr. 5 (RK&BCT)- The Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) has shortlisted three consultants/ agencies to undertake the crucial task of preparing both the feasibility report and the Detailed Project Report (DPR) for the ambitious Peripheral Ring Road (PRR) project. This significant endeavour aims to address the escalating traffic congestion on the existing Outer Ring Road (ORR) and facilitate the planned expansion of the city.

As per the tender specifications, the Peripheral Ring Road is envisioned to span between 105 to 110 kilometres in length. It will encircle the Outer Ring Road (ORR) and extend accessibility to more areas on the city's outskirts. The tender for this significant project was issued on June 15, 2023.

MUDA Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar stated to Star of Mysore yesterday that the tender process was initiated after the State Government approved of the Rs. 10-crore DPR for the PRR project. Approximately 15 to 16 consortiums expressed interest and submitted applications for the DPR preparation tender.

"After thorough evaluation of the tender specifications and the eligibility criteria of the applicant companies, we have selected three consultants or agencies and have forwarded the shortlist to the State Government," he confirmed.

Mandatory approvals

Dinesh Kumar also mentioned that the agency or consultant selected to prepare the DPR must complete the task within three months Given that the project exceeds Rs. 5 crore, government approval is mandatory. Alongside the shortlisted three consultants, MUDA has forwarded all tender applicants to the Government for consideration.

"We have diligently followed due process, and the issuance of the work order for DPR preparation will be postponed until the conclusion of the Lok Sabha elections and the subsequent lifting of the Model Code of Conduct. Once the DPR is finalised, it will be presented to the MUDA Board for clearance. Subsequently, the DPR will be forwarded to the Government for approval," he elaborated.

Alignment established

MUDA has identified specific parcels of land through which the PRR will traverse, and an alignment has been established. Careful consideration has been given to ensure that the road avoids existing villages and steers clear of riverbanks, forested areas, canals, lakes and other water bodies.

In line with these considerations, the DPR is expected to provide comprehensive details regarding alternative routes in case of obstacles like water bodies, as well as access to nearby roads that can be utilised. Additionally, the DPR should outline the required land quantities and the total project cost.

The DPR must include plans for the relocation of overhead power lines and other electrical installations, along with provisions for compensating for the felling of fruit-bearing and other valuable trees, as well as the demolition of structures and constructions that impede the road's path. It should also detail the construction of Over and Under Bridges, service roads, the main corridor of the PRR, and other necessary infrastructure components.

Political platform crucial for public service: Yaduveer

Recognising the significant contributions of both districts to the nation's progress, Yaduveer underscored the importance of preserving Mysuru's rich cultural heritage and Kodagu's pristine natural environment while formulating development plans.

He underlined the imperative of environmental conservation to safeguard the future for generations to come, highlighting the vision of a developed India as pivotal to modern India's developmental trajectory.

The programme was a platform for Yaduveer and various service institutions of Mysuru to converge and chart a path forward, their collaborative efforts symbolising a collective commitment to realising the shared vision of a prosperous and sustainable future for Mysuru and Kodagu, embodying the spirit of service and progress.

Vision for a hi-tech city

Addressing the approach to transforming Mysuru into a hi-tech city and his response to what he is doing in that direction, Yaduveer stressed the importance of prioritising environmental friendliness to ensure that the environment is not disturbed.

"By giving more priority to environmentally friendly industries, Mysuru can be transformed into a hi-tech city. Besides providing residential facilities, institutions like IIT, IIIT, and AIIMS must be established in Mysuru. It is imperative that such institutions are established to promote development and I am eager to work towards this end," he said.

On the topic of an international-level cricket stadium in Mysuru and priority for indigenous sports, Yaduveer stated that the famed IPL matches are happening all over the country, and Mysuru needs the infrastructure for such mega sports festivals.

"I will work towards constructing an international standard cricket stadium in Mysuru, and I have learned that efforts are already underway to find a suitable location for this. Along with IPL cricket, encouragement must be given to indigenous and local sports such as wrestling and kabaddi," he noted.

Connecting Mysuru with major cities

In response to the issue of connectivity from the Mysore Airport, Yaduveer highlighted that in the past few years, there has been air connectivity from Mysuru to several cities in the country. Looking ahead, there is a need for increased air connectivity, focusing on development activities such as the expansion of the Mysore Airport runway. This expansion will not only boost tourism but also improve connectivity, he noted.

"Progress has already been made in developing a four-lane road from Mysuru to Kushalnagar in Kodagu, and further attention will be given to this aspect in the coming days," he added.

Empowerment of youth

According to Yaduveer, to rejuvenate Mysuru as a clean city, the cooperation of youth groups and the local populace is imperative. Prioritising cleanliness within the city is essential, and involving various schools and colleges in cleanliness campaigns by engaging students can play a pivotal role, he noted.

Furthermore, fostering greater awareness of cleanliness among the public is crucial. He opined that leveraging youth groups to supplement development efforts will be a key strategy moving forward.

Real estate must complement Mysuru's natural infrastructure

In response to concerns regarding the adverse impact of unchecked real estate growth on the beauty of Mysuru city, Yaduveer acknowledged that real estate development is an integral part of urban growth. However, he stressed the importance of ensuring that real estate ventures complement the city's natural infrastructure.

Yaduveer cited historical examples, such as the construction of Devaraja Market and Lansdowne Building during the reign of the Wadiyars, which were built to accommodate the growing vegetable trade and commercial activities of vendors.

Looking ahead, he emphasised the need to provide suitable locations for farmers' fruit and vegetable businesses, ensuring genuine efforts to allocate space for such trade while maintaining the city's aesthetics and heritage value.

In terms of the future prospects of children with special needs, the moderator suggested that they should be provided with a minimum of at least 10 percent opportunities in all fields. Yaduveer emphasised the importance of raising awareness among officials about ensuring equal opportunities for individuals with special needs and sexual minorities across all sectors.

Behavioural change crucial for cleanliness

Behaviour change is crucial for maintaining the cleanliness of Mysuru, which is being compromised due to urination in public places and indiscriminately throwing garbage. Yaduveer, addressing the question of how to prevent this nuisance, emphasised the necessity of transforming people's behaviour. He highlighted the importance of instigating this transformation primarily through the education system.

Yaduveer stressed that without a behavioural change, achieving cleanliness goals would be challenging. He also mentioned his ongoing efforts to preserve Mysuru's tradition and shared his plans, expectations, and opinions regarding the development of Mysuru-Kodagu.

Regarding the establishment of a Yoga University, Yaduveer supported the idea of Mysuru becoming the Yoga City and proposed the establishment of a Yoga University. He noted that International Yoga Day is already being observed in Mysuru with large-scale participation, and with several yoga educational institutions already present, he expressed willingness to make efforts towards establishing a Yoga University in the future.

WORD OF THE DAY

Praxis

Pronunciation: PRAK-sis.
Meaning: Praxis is a formal word referring to the practical application of a theory — in other words, what one does to act on a theory (such as feminist theory) to which one is committed. Praxis is also used synonymously with action or practice to refer to the exercise of an art, science, or skill, or to customary conduct within a given sphere.
Origin: Both praxis and practice come ultimately from the Greek verb prassein ("to do" or "to practice") & both can refer to a habit or custom — that is, a usual way of doing something or of conducting oneself. Praxis, however, is more at home in formal, and often academic, writing; a sentence like "it is my praxis to eat breakfast cereal every morning" might make sense, but it's not idiomatic. Praxis also has two meanings that are more specific; it can refer to the practice of an art, science, or skill & it can also refer to the practical application of a theory, as in "democratic praxis" or "revolutionary praxis."
Example: "A disturbing trend that does not get enough attention is the continued practice of taking work, ideas, and creative genius from Black women without properly crediting or citing them as the source. ... In 2017, Dr. Christen A. Smith created the Cite Black Women campaign as a way to highlight this issue and 'push people to engage in a radical praxis of citation that acknowledges and honors Black women's transnational intellectual production.'" — Janice Gassam Asare, Forbes, 8 Oct. 2021.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Pedal to the metal

Meaning: You use the phrase 'Pedal to the metal' to indicate that something is being pushed forward as fast as possible.
Origin: This expression originated during the 1950s, when cars' floorboards were made of metal and racers would put the accelerator all the way down to make their autos go as fast as possible.
Example: "I put the pedal to the metal and finished my essay two days early."

QUOTE BOX

Success usually comes to those who are too busy to be looking for it.
